About Us

We have been manufacturing, developing, and designing wooden products for our customers for 20 years. Our main customers are in Japan, Australia, New Zealand, the UK and France, but there is an increased interest from the local Chinese market. Especially in Huzhou, where we are located two hours to the west of Shanghai.

As a 100% foreign-owned business in China we bring western professionalism and lower operating costs together to offer consistent high quality at a reasonable price.

Social Responsibility

We have about 40 local employees for whom we provide a safe and healthy work environment and meet or exceed all our legal obligations, we believe that without a good working environment people cannot be expected to produce good work. Many of our workers have remained with us since our operations began in 2008.

Sustainability

Ecquality takes environmental responsibility seriously. We only purchase timbers from legal and sustainable resources. We only buy from reputable suppliers, most of whom have FSC or PEFC certification, and do not trade in threatened species.

The mark of Responsible forestry

Our Story

Ecquality Timber Products Co., Ltd has its roots in Canberra, Australia, where in the late 1990's Terry began sourcing Australian Cypress products for export to Japan. From there we expanded the range of Australian timber species and products that we supplied to the Japanese market. Japan is a demanding market and necessarily our focus has always been on quality and reliability.

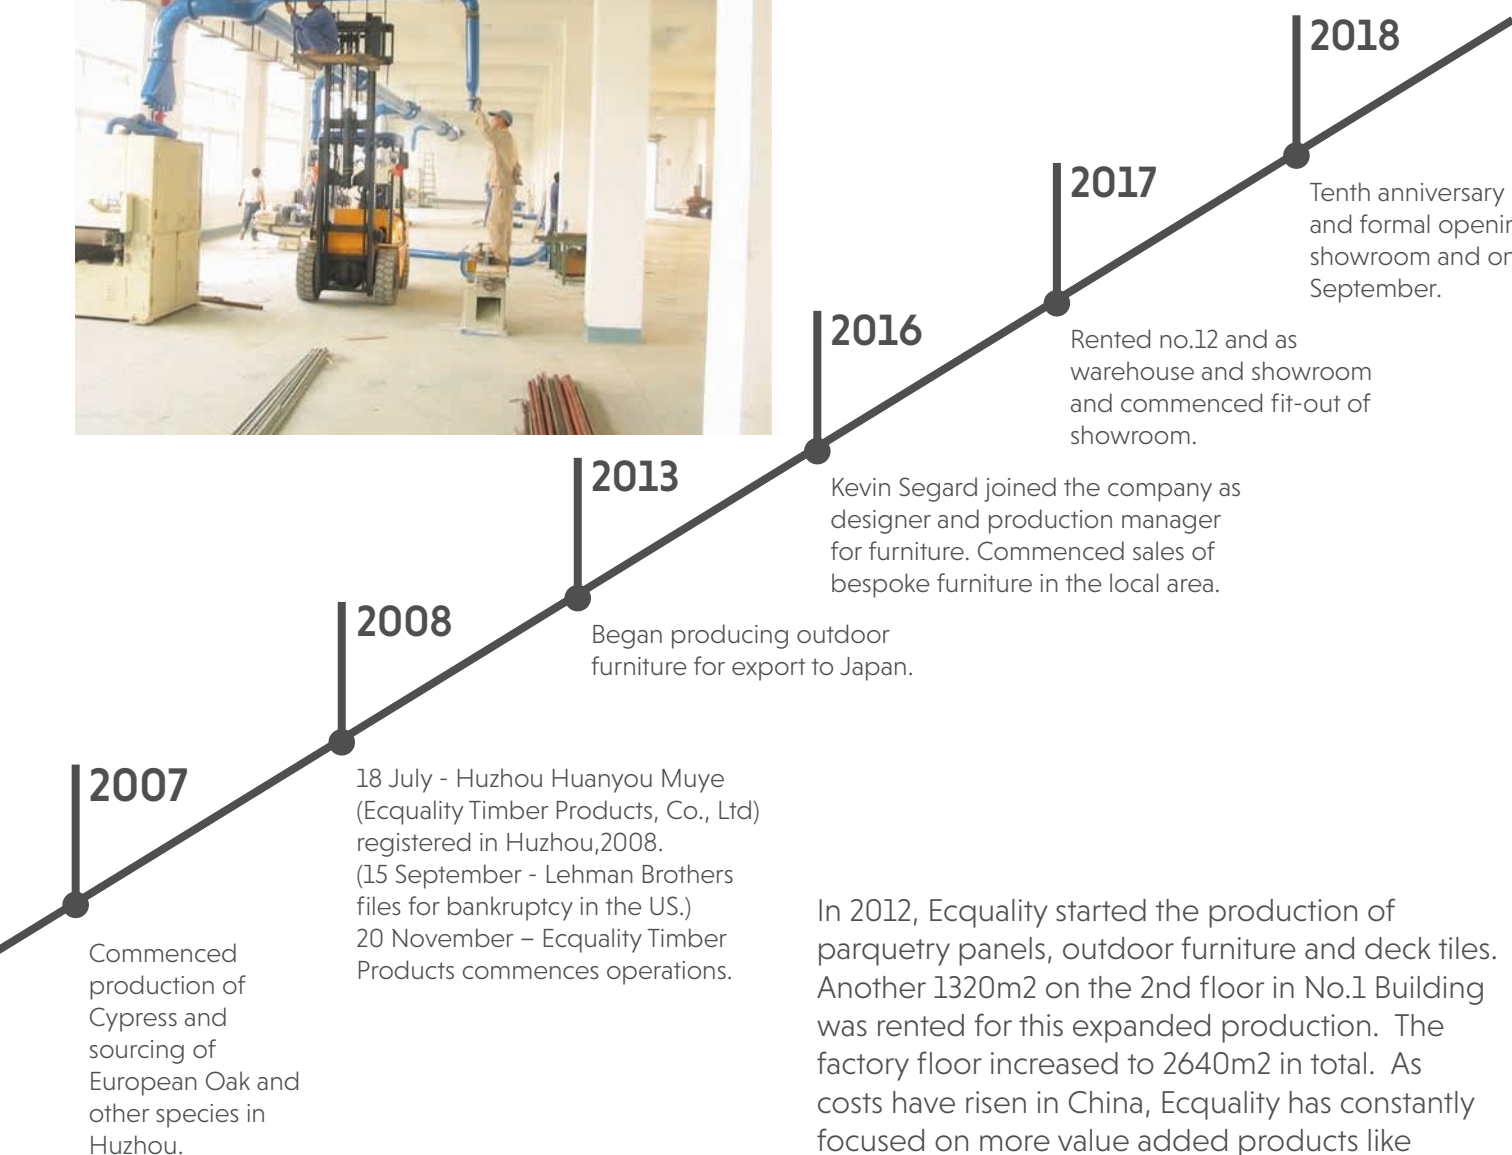

In 1999 we bought our office in Canberra and operated there for about ten years. In the mid-2000s we began exploring offshore opportunities. We had no connection with China at that time, but we made several visits in 2006 and 2007 and decided that China was a good place to do business.

The founder of Ecquality Timber Products grew up on a 3000 acre wheat and sheep farm in Western Australia, learning a wide range of practical skills necessary for farm life. It was also a life close to nature under the vast Australian sky and boundless landscape. It was a life of freedom, independence and self reliance. His grandfather was also a practical man who enjoyed making his own furniture and it was at that time that Terry learned basic woodworking skills and gained a love of natural wood.

After a career that took him down many interesting paths, his association with wood was renewed in 1997 when he was asked to research Australian Cypress by a client in Japan. The more he learned about the nature and characteristics of Cypress, the more he got fascinated by this wood. He decided to start in export business selling Australian Cypress to Japan.

After a number of visits to Malaysia, Vietnam and China and production trials in Malaysia, we chose Huzhou for its proximity to Shanghai, its well-developed wood industry cluster, its safety and the size of the city which he felt manageable. However at that time and without language skills, using local factories to make high quality products was not so easy. In 2008, Terry and his family decided to move their business base from Canberra, Australia to Huzhou, China. There on 18 July they established Ecquality Timber Products Co., Ltd.

Our company was registered in China in July 2008 and our 1320m<sup>2</sup> factory opened on 1 November 2008 in No.1 Building, Balidian Industrial Park with 7 workers. We imported Australian Cypress and Jarrah from Australia and produced decking and flooring to export mainly to Japan. In response to customer requests, we added European Oak to our list of imported species.

In 2012, Ecquality started the production of parquetry panels, outdoor furniture and deck tiles. Another 1320m<sup>2</sup> on the 2nd floor in No.1 Building was rented for this expanded production. The factory floor increased to 2640m<sup>2</sup> in total. As costs have risen in China, Ecquality has constantly focused on more value added products like furniture, architectural flooring and panels. In 2017, Ecquality rented Building No.12 for our warehouse and showroom. This building is 3860m<sup>2</sup>, taking the total area occupied by Ecquality to 6500m<sup>2</sup>.

Wood Species

We process four main species of wood: European Oak, Australian Jarrah, Australian Cypress, and American Black Walnut. All our wood species can be fine sanded, oiled, and lacquered. Additionally our Oak can be brushed, smoked, and stained.

The species that we process might have changed and we will be happy to talk about new opportunities. For detailed information on wood species see: <http://wood-database.com>

European Oak

Our Oak is sourced from Burgundy in France and also from the region immediately north of Vienna in Austria. Oak is functional, beautiful and stable. A solid Oak floor will last for decades. It can be refinished in-situ to refresh or keep up with current trends. Oak can be finished in a variety of methods, creating different colors.

Australian Jarrah

Jarrah is a hard Eucalyptus species that is only found in the Southwest of Western Australia. It is highly esteemed for flooring, high-end furniture as well as decking and outdoor furniture. It has also been favoured for railway sleepers and for structural use. The colour of Jarrah varies from light pink to dark red.

Australian Cypress

Our Cypress is a native timber of Australia and we source it from the State of Queensland. Cypress is pleasantly fragrant and it is resistant to moulds, bacteria and insects. It is also highly water resistant because it contains natural oils and will perform well in situations where other woods will distort. Australian Cypress resists direct sun, rain or snow and will stay beautiful for many years.

American Black Walnut

This Walnut is native to Eastern North America. The wood is highly prized for its dark-coloured and straight grain. Black walnut is one of the most durable hardwoods in the US. Black Walnut is used for manufacturing furniture, flooring, benchtops and many other decorative wood items. It has also been used for gun stocks.

History

The origin of the name isn't clear, but it is said the game has its origin in the Song Dynasty – around 1000 years ago. Trading ships from China brought Tangram to North America and Europe in the beginning of the 19th century. It gained immediate popularity as a game from a distant culture.

The Game

There are hundreds of puzzles to be played with this game. Some are easy and some are so difficult that a solution has yet to be found. The game is for a single player. Multiple players can challenge each other. Each one working on his own Tangram set and competing on time to complete it. To play the game, one selects a target shape from this paper or from the internet (tangram-channel.com). That shape must be built by using all 7 pieces without overlapping or stacking them on top of each other. The one who finishes first has either done it before or is the winner.
